Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 27 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells with heavy thundery showers.

Today:
A cloudy start across the region, breaking up during the morning. Widespread sunshine this afternoon but isolated showers developing across the south. Showers may be heavy and slow moving. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers will continue to quickly develop, forming a band of heavy showers that then slowly moves northwards during the evening. Risk of thunderstorms and high rainfall accumulations. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Monday:
Heavy showers clearing northwards quickly on Monday but likely to stay cloudy for much of the morning. Sunny during the afternoon although showers developing in the south again. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
An unsettled outlook with showers possible most days. During the afternoon, showers are likely to be heavy and slow-moving, possibly with some thunder. Chance of drier but cloudy conditions Thursday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.